Critics' Choice For Pioneering Effort In..

Category Upgradation: TRIUMPH

Having captured a market share of 35-40 per cent in the domestic organised lingerie industry with presence in 55 cities across with 500 points of purchase, Triumph was the obvious choice for the award. Thorsten Allenstein (L), MD, Triumph received the trophy proudly from Ajith Dias, chairman, Joint Apparel Association Forum, Sri Lanka.

Category Creation: MANYAVAR

Producing around one million units per year, Manyavar is one of the largest brands in the men's ethnicwear segment. With the overall sales of the brand touching Rs 50 crore in 2007-08, and a nationwide presence through 400 MBOs and 12 EBOs, it was little surprise that Manyavar emerged as the critic's choice. Angela Kreutz, director, Blocher Blocher Partner (not in the pic) and Veronique Poles, luxury & fashion coordinator, Indo-French Chamber of Commerce & Industry presented the award to Mohit Tikmany, CEO, Manyavar.

Brand Creation: SPYKAR

A handsome YOY growth of 182 per cent in domestic profit and 117 per cent in domestic retail sales, along with an increase of 87 per cent in EBO and 41 per cent in MBO space, were some of the factors attributed to Spykar's success. The brand won the Critic's Choice for Pioneering Effort in Brand Creation. Angela Kreutz (L), director, Blocher Blocher Partner and Veronique Poles (C), luxury and fashion coordinator, Indo-French Chamber of Commerce & Industry handed over the trophy to Prasad Pabrekar, MD, Spykar.

Retail Concept Creation: CENTRAL

Starting from just one store in Bangalore in 2004, Central today has approximately 1 million sq ft space spread across 8 stores in the country. Achieving over Rs 1,500 crore in less than 5 years and nearly 50 million shoppers in just 56 months, no other retailer than Central deserved the award. The award was collected by Sanjeev Agarwal (R), CEO, Pantaloon Retail and was presented by Sian Hession (not in the pic), retail consultant UK, and Craig Goldblatt, motivational business speaker.

Retail Concept Creation: THE LOOT

An innovative value retail format, The Loot won the accolades as the brand saw a substantial YOY growth (220 per cent) along with a rapid expansion rate and 108 per cent YOY growth in retail space. Holding aloft the trophy is Jay Gupta, MD & customer care executive, The Loot, along with Sunil Rathi, VP-finance (C) and Melwyn Rebeiro, VP-operations and customer care executive (2nd from right). The award was presented by Sian Hession (extreme left), retail consultant UK, and Craig Goldblatt (extreme right), motivational business speaker.
